RUILS has been running a successful paFinder service for 6 years and thought it was about time to make it available online. This allows you to take control of your search for a Personal Assistant or look for jobs that are available.

Pooling Direct Payments

The aim of this guide is to introduce you to the idea of pooling your Direct Payments – to share the cost of a Personal Assistant or other means of support or services.

It also provides you with some tools and information on how you might go about doing this, including: getting started, ideas on the different ways to spend your Direct Payments, what options you have when employing staff, how you can manage your money, some extra tips to make sure everybody involved is safe and happy and where to get help and advice.

Through lively discussions and some serious thinking we worked together with a group of DP employers to write this guide. To order a copy go to www.ruils.co.uk
